

Broadband, or any other R.F. at appreciable wattage, will most assuredly interfere with amateur radio reception of legitimate, licensed stations, if transmitted via power lines. Such lines were not and are not designed to carry high frequency R.F.

As an amateur radio operator for the past 43 years I cannot comprehend the F.C.C. approving such a malignant system.

Paul Rudolph
WB6OMT
Chino, CA